Courtenay Veterinary Clinic Moves

Courtenay, BC—Doctors Candice Hall and Tom Van Dyck of Courtenay Veterinary Clinic announced today that the clinic recently moved to its newly renovated building at 1380 Cliffe Avenue—the building with the green roof that is adjacent to Standard Park and the beach volleyball courts.

The newly renovated building offers easy street access for clients and their pets and is fully wheelchair accessible. There are three exam rooms, an on-site lab and Digital X-ray services, two operating tables, recovery area, and a beautiful client reception area. The comfortable dog runs have heated floors.

Dr. Van Dyck says, “We are very excited for clients to see our new facility. The design took into consideration the services we offer allowing us to maximize our efficiency, the comfort of our clients, and to take full advantage of our investments in technology, including our new Laser that makes many operations much less traumatic for our clients’ pets.”

The clinic will host a public open house later this year.

Courtenay Veterinary Clinic provides a full array of veterinary services and products, including preventive/wellness care, nutritional products and counseling, dental hygiene care, surgery, and emergency care.

The luxurious park setting is also the trail-head for the Courtenay River Walk leading to Lewis Park, Simms Memorial Park and the Airpark Walk.
